

VACANCY

Draughtsperson

An opening has arisen for a Draughtsperson/Drafter to join our engineering department.

The successful candidate will produce 2D and 3D drawings for the customer approval and planning permission processes. A high level of commitment and drive is essential. You will have a can do attitude, and excellent time management and organisational skills.

Strong communication skills will also be required as the role will in part be customer facing. You will work directly with our clients to ensure we meet their requirements in full.

Working within the lift manufacturing industry, previous exposure to metal fabrication would be desirable, but not essential.

You will be required to process, modify and issue CAD drawings, maintain bills of manufacture and other controlled documents such as Manufacturing drawings. The role will also see you involved in the development and upkeep of product manuals, and communicate technical updates.

Starting date: as soon as possible

Full Job Description available upon request.
